

Sydney Law Review

Application — 2010

Sydney Law Review is a skills based unit with capped enrolments. Application is a competitive process based on academic merit, team skills, organisational ability and writing and editing ability. No factor will be weighed above any other. You must complete this application form to be considered. Applications are assessed progressively, so you may have a greater chance of acceptance if you apply early.

Your application will be considered by the Editor who will decide which students are to be offered a place in the subject.

Please return this form to Joanna Howse by Monday 7th December 2009.

Name ----- SID-----

Term Address -----

----- Postcode -----

Contact Tel No----- Mobile -----

Email-----

Vacation Address -----

Term Address -----

----- Postcode -----

Contact Tel No-----

For Which Semester do you wish to be Considered? (tick both if you wish)

[] First Semester ----- [] Second Semester ----- I prefer -----

Please attach

- 1. the most up to date copy of your academic transcript
- 2. a copy of a piece of your academic writing
- 3. a copy of your curriculum vitae

You should also fill in (or attach an answer to) the question overleaf, stating why you would like to do Sydney Law Review and what skills you bring to it.

Return Address

Joanna Howse

Coordinator, Sydney Law Review

Law Building F10, Level 3, Eastern Avenue, The University of Sydney, NSW 2006

☎ 9351 0284

Email: J.Howse@usyd.edu.au

PTO

