* Applicants must hold a qualification in law (Bachelor of Laws, Diploma in Law (LPAB) or equivalent) to be eligible to apply for admission to these programs.

^ Candidates for these programs who do not hold a qualification in law must complete the foundation unit LAWS6252 Legal Reasoning and the Common Law System before/whilst attempting further law units. Health Law candidates are encouraged to undertake LAWS6881 Introduction to Law for Health Professionals in lieu of LAWS6252, if available.

† Interdisciplinary programs administered by other faculties. Applications should be submitted to the relevant faculty.

2. Submitting an application

The closing dates below set the minimum time necessary for applications to be considered and for the necessary processing to take place. This includes the printing of reading materials and establishment of computer (including Web Course Tools) and library access for successful applicants, well in advance of class commencement.

Coursework applications (including course transfers)

► Closing dates

Commencing:	Applications open:	Applications close:
February Semester 2010	1 September 2009	13 November 2009
July Semester 2010	1 March 2010	30 April 2010

Applications submitted subsequent to closing dates may be considered. Please note however, that late applicants may experience delays in the processing of their application and subsequent administrative operations.

Applicants for award courses containing compulsory units of study should ensure that their application is submitted by the relevant closing date. Late applicants may be required to defer commencement of their award course to the subsequent semester.

► Outcome of application

Applicants will be notified in writing of the outcome within 3-4 weeks of receipt of their complete application (1-2 weeks for applications submitted well before the closing date). Enrolment details will be forwarded to successful applicants who will be required to attend an in-person enrolment session.

Research applications

► Closing dates

Prospective applicants are required to submit an Expression of Interest form to determine their eligibility to apply – see 'Research applications' in Section 4 of this booklet for further details. Expressions of interest should be submitted at least two months before the official closing date.

Commencing:	Application must be received by:
February Semester 2010	30 September 2009†
July Semester 2010	23 April 2010†

† Admission to research programs is very competitive. Due to the volume of applications and limited supervisory capacity in certain fields, applicants must comply with the prescribed closing date in order to have their application assessed by the Research Committee.

► Outcome of application

Applicants will be notified in writing of the outcome within 8-10 weeks of receipt of their complete application (including detailed research proposal). Enrolment details will be forwarded to successful applicants.

Submission of application

Application forms may be downloaded at:

www.law.usyd.edu.au/fstudent/coursework/apply_local.shtml

Your application form should be accompanied by documentation appropriate to your proposed course of study. Please refer to pages 7-11 for detailed information on the documentation required.

Applications to all Faculty of Law administered programs should be submitted on or before the relevant closing date, either in person or by mail to:

Postgraduate Team, Faculty of Law Level 3, Law School Building (F10) Eastern Avenue, Camperdown Campus The University of Sydney NSW 2006

Original documents will be copied and returned at the Information Desk if submitted in-person or returned by registered post if received by mail.

New Law School building

The Faculty of Law has relocated to the new Law School building at the Camperdown Campus in February 2009. The new building is situated adjacent to Fisher (Library) Stack on Eastern Avenue. The nearest street entrances are Parramatta Road and City Road.

Address: Faculty of Law
Law School Building (F10)
Eastern Avenue, Camperdown Campus
University of Sydney NSW 2006

For a map of the Camperdown Campus, including directions, please go to:
<http://db.auth.usyd.edu.au/directories/map/largemap00a.html>

The semester-length evening classes will continue to be taught in Phillip Street, whilst most intensive units will be conducted at the Camperdown Campus unless specified otherwise. See latest timetable for actual class location www.law.usyd.edu.au/cstudent/coursework/units.shtml.

4. Documentation required

To ensure the timely processing of your application, it is essential that the appropriate documentation is submitted. Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Below is a summary of the documentation required for each level of study. All original documents will be returned promptly.

Coursework Master's / Graduate Diploma applications

Application must include ...	Details
1. Original transcripts of all academic qualifications attempted Transcripts of studies undertaken at The University of Sydney are not required.	Academic transcripts must be original. Certified copies cannot be accepted. Transcripts must contain a complete record of units of study attempted and results attained. Individual result statements cannot be accepted. If you are currently completing the final semester of your undergraduate degree, please advise the expected completion date in a separate covering letter and forward your original transcript as soon as it becomes available.
2. Award/conferral date(s) of qualification(s)	Original testamur or a statement verifying the award/conferral date(s) of degree(s) or diploma(s) must be supplied by the conferring institution(s) if the date(s) are not shown on your academic transcript(s).
3. Proof of Australian/New Zealand citizenship or Australian permanent resident status	Copy of birth/citizenship certificate or photo page of valid passport (and PR visa if applicable) certified by a Justice of the Peace or Faculty of Law staff member. Documents certified by other individuals cannot be accepted.
4. Explanation for any 'fail' grades	To assist the relevant Program Coordinator in considering your eligibility for admission, a brief written explanation must be provided for any 'fail' grades recorded on your academic transcript(s).
5. Statement of relevant experience	eg curriculum vitae, employment history, referee reports relevant to your application
6. English language test result	If your previous qualifications were undertaken in a language other than English, you will need to demonstrate English language proficiency. The following exams and scores are recognised for entry: IELTS: overall score of 7.0 with no less than 6.0 in any one section TOEFL (paper-based): 600 and TWE of 4.5 TOEFL (computer-based): 250 and 4.5 in the essay writing section TOEFL (internet-based): 100 and minimum 23 in the writing section and 22 in all other sections. Scores more than two years old cannot be accepted.

If you are applying for admission to more than one course, please complete and return one application form together with a covering letter clearly listing the order of your course preferences.

Research applications

There are two steps involved in making an application to a research program:

► Step 1: Expression of interest

Prior to making a formal application, prospective students are required to provide information about their area of intended research, academic qualifications, professional or other qualifications, details about their original research activities and publications, and any other information relevant to the application on the Expression of Interest form. The form may be downloaded at:

www.law.usyd.edu.au/fstudent/research/how_to_apply.shtml

Prospective students should complete and forward this form by e-mail to s.ng@usyd.edu.au.

The Associate Dean (Research) will consider the Expression of Interest on the basis of the prospective student's eligibility to enter the postgraduate research program as well as research supervision capacity within the relevant research area. If the Expression of Interest is accepted, the prospective student will be referred to the relevant academic staff member to discuss the suitability/viability of the research proposal for a thesis and supervision and to determine whether to proceed to make a formal application (Step 2).

The Expression of Interest should be submitted approximately 2 months prior to the formal application closing date. This will allow the minimum time to assess the Expression of Interest and to make a formal application. Late Expressions of Interest may not be considered in time for a formal application.

► Step 2: Formal application for admission

A formal application should only be submitted if your research proposal has been discussed with and approved by an academic staff member.

Application form

Once the prospective student is advised to make a formal application, they should complete an Application for Admission form. The form may be downloaded at:

Local applicants: Australian Citizens/Permanent Residents or New Zealand Citizens
www.law.usyd.edu.au/fstudent/research/how_to_apply.shtml

International applicants: Other citizens/residents www.usyd.edu.au/internationaloffice/student

Supporting documentation

The completed application form must be submitted together with the following supporting documentation.

- Research proposal (see proposal outline)
- Proof of Australian/New Zealand citizenship or Australian permanent resident status: copy of birth/citizenship certificate or photo page of valid passport (and permanent resident visa if applicable) certified by a Justice of the Peace or Faculty of Law staff member.
- Evidence of name change (if applicable) e.g. original or certified marriage certificate.
- Original academic transcripts of all academic qualifications held. The transcript should contain the name of qualification, award conferral date, name of awarding institution, class of honours, course duration, overall course average or grade point average attained. For overseas qualifications, please provide academic transcripts including explanation of grades and the level of passing grade at the awarding institution. Applicants whose transcripts are not in English should provide original transcripts together with original translations of the transcripts. Original transcripts will be returned to applicants

- Explanation of 'fail' grades
- Evidence of English proficiency
- At least one referee report from an academic and/or relevant professional outlining your academic performance, research potentials and demonstrated ability to undertake a research degree.
- List of original publication and research details (research undertaken in English only). The details should include the publication/research project:
 - submission date
 - type (e.g. book, journal, conference paper)
 - title
 - word length
 - whether you are the sole author, main author (main contributor of publication) or co-author
- Statement indicating your relevant professional experience at a responsible level or direct research since graduation (please list position title, duration of position held and responsibilities undertaken).
- Statement detailing your availability for study. If your proposed candidature will be part-time, you should attach a statement to indicate that you will be substantially free to pursue your candidature. Your statement should show that you will have sufficient time available to complete the course within the maximum period. It should also show that you will plan and carry out the intended research; and for the purposes of this research, that you will be under the supervision and control of the University. If you are employed, your statement should include a declaration from your employer confirming that you will be permitted the time required to effectively pursue your studies.
- Statement indicating how you will be able to sufficiently fund your proposed field work or overseas study/research (if applicable). Explain why this work is essential for completion of your degree.
- Thesis completion timetable including attendance and completion of the compulsory units Legal Research 1, 2 and 3. Master's research candidates are required to complete Legal Research 1 only.
- SJD applicants: indicate the coursework units you are planning to undertake in conjunction with the thesis and the units Legal Research 1, 2 and 3.

► Research proposal

A formal application should only be submitted if your research proposal has been discussed with and approved by an academic staff member.

Prospective research students should include a detailed research proposal (approximately 10 pages). This proposal should include the following information:

- (i) Proposed research title
- (ii) Aims of the research
- (iii) Background to the research, including a survey of the relevant literature and law (including case law, where appropriate) and a clear statement of the area to be researched
- (iv) Rationale for the research and a statement of why it is significant
- (v) Working hypotheses or research questions
- (vi) Research methodology including theoretical and empirical considerations for the research

- (vii) Consideration of ethical requirements and obligations of the research, including all research projects and teaching practicals involving human participants as subjects, require ethical approval. See www.usyd.edu.au/ethics/human

► Transfer of research candidature

In addition to formal documentation required for application (as above), applicants who have already commenced a research degree and are seeking to transfer to another research degree, are required to provide the following additional information:

- Reasons for applying to transfer
- Statement (no more than 1,000 words) indicating the progress of your thesis to date. This should include an outline of the thesis plus a brief summary of each chapter, including information about what stage draft the material has reached.
- Supervisor's report detailing the rate and standard of your thesis progress made to date.
- Non-University of Sydney applicants: provision of an official enrolment notice issued by the home institution confirming the number of full-time equivalent semesters of enrolment consumed under the DEEWR Research Training Scheme.

The formal admission application will be assessed by faculty members in the relevant Research Cluster Group and the Postgraduate Research Committee. Applications will be assessed on the basis of a range of criteria, including the academic credentials of the applicant, the strength of the research proposal, and research supervision capacity in the relevant legal area.

Please note that entry into the postgraduate research program is highly competitive. Due to the volume of applications and limited supervisory capacity in certain fields, applicants must comply with the prescribed closing date in order to have their application assessed by the Postgraduate Research Committee. Late applications may only be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Cross-institutional applications

Students currently enrolled in a postgraduate* award course at another university who wish to undertake unit(s) of study offered by the University of Sydney on a cross-institutional basis, should provide:

- (i) an original letter from your home institution:
 - stating your current enrolment status at that institution
 - listing the unit(s) of study you are permitted to undertake as a cross-institutional candidate at the University of Sydney which will be recognised for credit by your home institution.
- (ii) proof of Australian/New Zealand citizenship or Australian permanent resident status: copy of birth/citizenship certificate or photo page of valid passport (and PR visa if applicable) certified by a Justice of the Peace or Faculty of Law staff member.

* Master's or graduate diploma level. Students undertaking the equivalent of an undergraduate qualification are not eligible to apply.

Non-degree applications

Applicants who qualify for admission to a coursework program, but do not wish to commit to a full graduate diploma or master's program may undertake single units of study on a non-degree basis. Students undertaking non-degree units are required to complete prescribed assessment tasks and receive an official university grade for each unit undertaken. Up to 12 credit points of study successfully completed on a non-degree basis may be later credited towards a relevant graduate diploma or master's degree. Non-degree applicants should provide:

- (i) original transcripts of all academic qualifications held
- (ii) proof of Australian/New Zealand citizenship or Australian permanent resident status: copy of birth/citizenship certificate or photo page of valid passport (and PR visa if applicable) certified by a Justice of the Peace or Faculty of Law staff member.

Legal Professional Development program

It is possible to undertake postgraduate units of study through the Legal Professional Development (LPD) program in the Faculty of Law, whereby participants attend lectures but do not complete formal assessment tasks and therefore do not receive an official university grade. Unit(s) completed through the LPD program cannot be recognised for credit towards a master's or graduate diploma course at the University of Sydney or any other tertiary institution. For more information, please contact the LPD Coordinator:

Telephone: 9351 0238

E-mail: law.events@usyd.edu.au

Full-time students must undertake at least 18 credit points and no more than 24 credit points per semester.

Part-time students may undertake up to 12 credit points per semester.

Most units of study offered by the Faculty of Law are weighted six (6) credit points. A limited number of units are weighted twelve (12) credit points.

Further information

For detailed information on award course resolutions, applicants are encouraged to consult the Faculty Handbook at www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks

Legal Reasoning and the Common Law System

This is a compulsory unit of study for postgraduate students who do not hold a qualification in law (Bachelor of Laws, Diploma in Law (LPAB) or equivalent) commencing one of the following award courses:

Master of Administrative Law and Policy
 Master of Environmental Law / Graduate Diploma in Environmental Law
 Master of Health Law / Graduate Diploma in Health Law/Public Health Law
 Master of Environmental Science and Law (offered by the Faculty of Science)
 Master of International Business and Law (offered by the Faculty of Econ & Business)
 Master of Labour Law and Relations

This unit must be undertaken in the student's first semester of enrolment. Students who are unable to undertake the unit during their first semester of enrolment must defer commencement of their course until they are able to attend this unit.

The unit has been designed to equip students with the necessary legal skills and legal knowledge to competently apply themselves in their chosen area of law. Instruction will cover the legislative process; the judiciary and specialist tribunals; precedent; court hierarchies; legal reasoning; constitutional law; administrative law; contracts; and torts. The unit also covers aspects of academic writing skills, legal research and details on completing assessment tasks. Some elements of the unit will be tailored in accordance with the requirements of the particular specialist programs.

Health Law students are encouraged to undertake the unit LAWS6881 Introduction to Law for Health Professionals in lieu of LAWS6252 Legal Reasoning & the Common Law System in the first semester of enrolment, if available.

Bridging program

Students whose qualification is obtained from a non-English speaking country will be required to attend a two-day bridging program to be held in the week prior to the commencement of semester. Commencing students will be provided with more details at the time of enrolment. Students are also encouraged to enrol in the foundation unit LAWS6252 Legal Reasoning & the Common Law System.

6. Additional information

FEE-HELP

FEE-HELP enables Australian citizens and holders of permanent humanitarian visas enrolling in a coursework award course to obtain a loan from the Commonwealth Government to cover all or part of their tuition fees incurred. Please refer to the booklet FEE-HELP information (available from the Information Desk) or visit www.goingtouni.gov.au/ for further details on the scheme.

The Request for FEE-HELP assistance form will be made available to students at the time of enrolment. Please ensure that you provide your tax file number or a certificate from the ATO stating that you have applied for one when you come to enrol. You will not be able to participate in FEE-HELP without your tax file number.

HECS equity scholarship

The Faculty of Law provides a limited number of HECS Equity Scholarships to postgraduate coursework students within the Faculty. The purpose of the scholarship is to provide financial assistance to students who might otherwise have difficulty meeting the cost of undertaking study within one of the Faculty's coursework programs. Successful applicants will incur a government HECS liability instead of paying full fees. The financial benefit of this depends on the program in which the student is enrolled. Students not engaged in full-time study will be charged on a pro-rata basis. Application information is available at www.law.usyd.edu.au/fstudent/coursework/scholarships.shtml

John O'Brien Memorial Scholarships in Criminal Law & Criminology

The scholarships are awarded annually to commencing students in the Master of Criminology by coursework and research degrees in criminal law or criminology.

Applications will open in October of each year (subject to availability). Application and scholarship information is available at:

John O'Brien Memorial Coursework Scholarship in Criminal Law & Criminology
www.law.usyd.edu.au/fstudent/coursework/scholarships.shtml

John O'Brien Memorial Research Scholarship in Criminal Law & Criminology www.law.usyd.edu.au/cstudent/research/scholarships.shtml

Sydney Law School in Europe

The Faculty of Law offers Australian postgraduate students and lawyers the opportunity to travel to Germany and the United Kingdom to undertake units of study as part of their award course. Further information about the Sydney Law School in Europe units, including an enrolment and payment form, timetable and unit descriptions can be found at www.law.usyd.edu.au/fstudent/coursework/LLM

Course transfer fee policy

Where approval is granted for a student to transfer from an award course in a lower fee band to a course in a higher fee band, the student is liable to pay the difference between the higher and lower fee bands at the time a unit of study was undertaken, for each unit to be credited to the higher fee band course. The course transfer fee cannot be covered by FEE-HELP and must be paid up-front at the time of transfer.

HECS exempt research candidates who transfer to a coursework program are liable to pay the tuition fee for each unit of study they wish to credit towards the coursework degree or diploma.
