

Style Guide for Preparing and Editing Book Reviews

1. Reviews should not exceed the specified length (ie, about 1500 words). However, we do on occasion publish longer review essays. Please consult with the book review editor.
2. Each review should include the title of the book
3. In all other respects, a book review should be in the same Sydney Law Review style as an article.